

NAME THE PAPER CONTEST

AT QUATERDECK BEFORE

ALL CADETS ELLIGIBLE. SUGGES-

NOV.18 WINNER WILL BE

TIONS MUST BE PLACED IN BOX

ANNOUNCED IN NEXT ISSUE

OCT.1, NOV.1

NOVEMBER, 65

WINNIPEG

POs TRIUMPH OVER OFFICERS CO's MESSAGE BLOOD BATH

To a good many young men in our Corps the Royal Canadian Sea Cadets provides the beginning of a road; an avenue to a career. Some may eventually go to the Royal Canadian Navy as rating, others to the Military Colleges for Regular Officer Training Plan and some take advantage of progressing to the University Naval Training Divisions. You may be now standing on the event the secret is Training and Schooling and this is something you should not part with too quickly.

As part of the R.C.C. C. organization, the executive make available to you various cruises, trades, training courses and billets at Summer Camp. These are yours to take advantage of and represent our and your Country's part toward developing your maturity. As repayment we are offered the perhaps to some, University and a Degree and others Vocational Schooling and an eventual Trade. In any threshold with indecision as to what the future holds for you; opportunity of influencing your decision toward the way. however ours is only a guiding hand and the first step is always yours and yours alone.

If you are using our Corps as your first stepping stone then I on behalf of all our officers wish you the best of luck.

POs in the lead and to go on to win the game.

The Petty Officer's Mess would like to thank the Officer's Warroom for participating and for giving the POs a demonstration on how "not" to play football.

LOCATION: ALLEMAN PARK

EVENT: Smashing defeat by the staunch POs over the confident officers who, until Sunday, Oct. 17 were still bragging of last year's fluke over the petty officers.

It took the POs almost three quarters to find the plays that would work against the scrap and scratch officer defence, but when they did the officers' sure win cracked right in half. It took the cool steady eyes of the petty officers to find out what they were doing wrong with 10 point deficit at half time but they were in no mood of giving up and they proved it by defeating the officers by a score of 26-20.

A victory party was held by POs while the officers trudged their weary bodies home still wondering what hit them.

I would like to congratulate PO Perkins who scored the tying TD and PO Harrison who forged ahead to put the

The Old Philosopher Sums Up

You say you are a new entry and you are marching along quite proudly in a squad, and the man behind you steps on your heel and pulls your shoe off, so you turn around and let go a whopper and then hop out of rank to get your shoe, and just then the PO in charge hears and sees you, so he doubles you around the parade square forty times in your stocking feet?

You say you just got your uniform, and you are trying to put it on the RIGHT way, so while the person in charge is helping someone else, you think you will get a step ahead of everyone, and you get stuck halfway in your confounded jumper, and you are beginning to suffocate, and you are getting panicky, so you get your pocket knife and split the jumper from top to bottom, and the new entry officer sees you, so he turns you over to the Stores officer to do unpacking and sorting for the next eight weeks?

You say you threw your grubby jumper into your mother's washing machine and it got completely soaked up, stopped the motor, burned it out, and consequently burned out all the fuses.

You say you threw your white frocks in with the wash, and forgot your blue socks were in there, too, and when you pulled out the frocks they were a beautiful shade of blue?

You say you were Quartermaster on duty and you had to pipe stand-easy, and you couldn't use the bos'n's call correctly, and when you piped the order, it sounded like a dying canary's last song, so the OOD came by fringing mad because no one had heard the pipe and it was ten minutes to Secure?

You say you told the Sentry to present arms for everyone, so he presented arms for the janitor and fourteen OD's as they came smartly across the Quarterdeck?

You say you put "IT" on your cap for the Annual Inspection, and the parade was outside and right in the middle of the inspector when you were standing smartly at attention for the Inspecting Officer, a thunder shower passed overhead and the whiting on your cap started to run . . . all down your nose, tickling as it went, all over your face and down your

CONT'D

M'OUAT'S RAIDERS

Some people in the corps say that the guard is dull and boring, but on the contrary it is a lot of fun. But to obtain this fun you have to put in some effort and hard work. One insider that comes to my mind to illustrate what I mean by effort is:

When I was a new entry and had been in the guard for about a month, the funnest thing happened. We were using the rifles for the first time, and had just been told never to drop your rifle. When we got on Sea Cadet deck we did the first and simplest movements with the rifle. The very first

~~was~~ movement we did a man dropped his rifle. He was pulled out of ranks, and put in front of the guard. He had his rifle wrapped in his arms and had to say:

"I love my rifle and I will never drop my rifle again."

I thought it was funny at the time, but I can now feel how crushed he must have been. This man however is still in the guard, but he hasn't dropped

CONT'D

ENTERTAINMENT

L/C Mainer

The 1965 entertainment committee for JTC consists of LT. Somerville and S/LT Palmquist. Upon consulting these officers this reporter has been informed there will be no Halloween dance but quite likely a dance in late November.

They hope to have quite a few new ideas to make the dances much more enjoyable for you this year, so stand by and read our next edition for more complete details.

CONT'D PHILOSOPHER

collar and jumper, and you looked like something the cat dragged in, and just then the Inspecting Officer came around to you?

Are all these things troubling you buddy? Well lift up your head . . . hold it high . . . and when the going gets a little rough, sing out . . . sing out so everyone can hear . . . because remember buddy, you're a Royal Canadian Sea Cadet.

CONT'D RAIDERS

a rifle since, although he has made other mistakes but everyone can make a mistake.

If you want to join the guard it starts around November 14.

I hope to see as many new men as possible out.

-L/C Cliff Huot

BRITISH EMPIRES LARGEST

OBJECTIVE - 400

At the present time we of John Travers Cornwell V.C. corps can boast with pride that it is the British Empire's Largest Sea Cadet Corps.

This month we started back with approximately three hundred cadets. Cadets willing to work towards another glorious and successful year. During the summer months, while most of you were at summer camps, courses and cruises, while your officers were planning your next year's syllabus, your petty officers were running through their minds plans for making this season twice as hard (on you) as it was last year.

By now you've heard what your officers and N.C.O.'s are doing, but, "What can I, an Able Seaman, do?" is what should be going through your mind about this time.

If you have any friends who will be 14 by December 31, 1965 bring them down and we'll take it from there; let's see if we can hit 400 by December. Well, there you are, there is your job, 100 cadet-recruits by Christmas.

We're going to surprise our X.O. and have 100 recruits by Christmas aren't we? And to show you how excited and confident we of ??? are, we are offering to any 2 cadets who join the highest number of recruits over 5 by Christmas a NAVAL DIRK. (KNIFE)

Well, what do you say lads is it a deal? We'll start this week and Good Luck.

STAFF:

Editor P02 W. Webb
Copy Editor P02 B. Walker
Entertainment L/C J. Mainer
Gunnery L/C C. Hout
Ensign Parker L/C M. Ottenbreit
Officer of Month L/C R. Straker

Reporters:

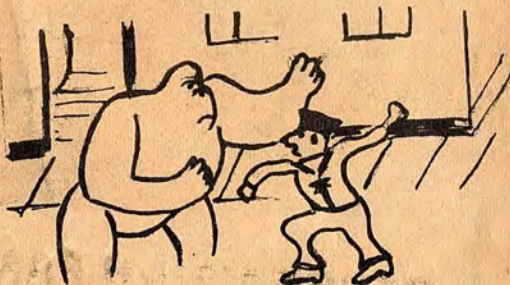

A/B T. Abram
A/B J. Harligers

Photographers:

L/C G. Hebert
L/C J. Mainer

Advisor:

Sub/Lt. D. McQuat

SO YOU DON'T WANT TO JOIN SEA CADETS, EH!!

T.O. RETIRES

Each Sea Cadet corps has as its first responsibility the training of young men to become good citizens. As each year passes we see how Sea Cadets has helped its former members. This is primarily true in the field of education and employment.

As the city grows, so should our corps. the more cadets we have, the greater opportunity exists to progress in the corps. It is therefore up to each and every one of you to make a determined effort to gain new recruits. This appears to be old hat with some of you— it is never to old— it is worth while to repeat,

Our organization can only grow and prosper if you support it. Support it through your attendance, attention, and mainly by increasing our strength, make it a challenge. Bring down two recruits between now and Christmas. Can you accept this challenge.

R. F. Weidenbacher

Front view of Colour Party and Guard of our corps, passing the Pentagon on battle of Atlantic Sunday.

"We believe in family planning. We plan to buy color TV with our next relief check."

DEAR ENSIGN PARKER

Dear Ensign Parker:

How can I clean the cat-walks. As I have so much trouble with them.

Troubled

Dear Troubled:

Your best bet is a tooth-brush. Dip the tooth-brush in water then put a little polish on it then go around the cat-walks and the dust, and dirt is cleaned away and the cat-walk is clean.

Ensign Parker

Dear Ensign Parker

What should I use to keep my canvass top clean?

Stumped

Dear Stumped:

Above all do not use a white shoe polish as it most likly go running down your face if it gets wet.

Use "IT" colour coat, it's the best you can get

Ensign Parker

Dear Ensign Parker

I would like to know, why some cadets have been promoted to 1/c in less than a year. it took me two full years to get my rank. I think they should have been at least one and a half yr.

Worried

Dear Worried:

BREAKS

Ensign Parker