JOHN TRAVERS CORNWELL VC

At the height of the Battle of Jutland on 31 May 1916, Boy Seaman First Class John Travers Cornwell stood his station at his gun aboard HMS Chester. With his gun's crew dead and dieing, the boy seaman, 16 years of age, remained at his most exposed post for orders that never came. It was here he received his mortal wound. It was this act of bravery that earned him the Victoria Cross, the Commonwealth's highest award.

His action inspired a nation trapped in a war to end all wars. Today, his action still inspires a sea cadet corps that proudly bears his name. Formed in 1920 as the Boy's Naval Brigade, the Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps JOHN TRAVERS CORNWELL VC has a proud history of dedicated service to the youth of our great country.

The Annual Inspection is a culmination of a year's hard work. Through Annual Inspection 1990 the cadets and officers show a respect for the history and a commitment to the future of this proud corps. Thank you for showing your support this evening.
